

I'll be there – song sharing

In 2003, we received the news that a new ministry is awaiting for us to launch out abroad. We have a year to wrap up our work in Sydney and at the same time, to prepare the ground breaking new work. We have mixed emotion when receiving the news that we have to leave Sydney. We will sorely miss the group we have been growing together for over 10 years. We have seen the amazing wonders of what Yahweh our God had done all these years with our group in Sydney. Now that we are given a new opportunity to embark on a new ministry in unknown territories, we are all so excited to face the challenge. I thank God for entrusting us to this new ministry. As the day draws near to leave Sydney, I know that God won't let us go alone. He would go with us and stay with us. Come what may, wherever He leads us, we will be there. The song 'I'll be there' is a pledge to follow God wherever He leads me to go.
